The Girl Scout Program

AN EDITORIAL

The Girl Scout program in Arlington Heights is threatened because of the "let George do it" attitude. Its life will depend upon the reaction of Arlington Heights women and the dads to the appeal of the Girl Scout organization that appears on this page.

It is not necessary for this paper to point out the good things of Girl Scout training. The movement has been in successful operation in Arlington for four years, but it has grown to such an extent that the adult committee members and leaders are not able to properly service the 216 girls who are members of the organization.

Any mother who takes an interest in the welfare of her daughter can help the community Girl Scout program. Too few have offered to assist. Too many are so busy attending card parties and social events they think they have no time for our girls.

Arlington has been liberal in financing the Girl Scout program, but it also needs personal service on the part of the givers.

This editorial is not trying to "sell" Girl Scoutcraft to Arlington Heights. It has accomplished its purpose if its readers will just carefully read the appeal that appears in an adjoining column.

Banks prospered during year 1946

The financial position of the banks in the area served by Paddock Publications was never better than it is today. The official reports of these banks published in this issue show total deposits of $27,000,000 and total reserves of $29,000,000.

The liquidation of U. S. Securities and the withdrawal from local banks of substantial accounts held to the credit of the government means that the growth of local business has been much greater than the above figures show.

In many parts of the country there have been big drops in bank deposits due to the withdrawal of funds by Uncle Sam. In this area new private business has more than made up for such withdrawals.

The Frenzen banks

The three banks, with which the Frenzen family is identified, have total resources of over ten million dollars. The largest of this group is the Arlington Hts. National with resources of over $4,500,000. The net profit for the past year of this banking institution was over $20,000. A thousand dollars of this amount was used to pay a two percent dividend; $10,000 was added to surplus and $10,000 to undivided profits.

The capital structure of the Arlington National has reached such a position that the stockholders will vote at their annual meeting next Tuesday on a proposal to increase its capital stock. The bank is manned by three officers and eight employees.

The capital structure of the Des Plaines National has resources of over nine million dollars and total resources of over $10,000,000, over half of which is in government securities. Capital stock, surplus and undivided profits are $338,000.

The Federal Savings of Des Plaines, specializing in building loans, is also in excellent condition with resources of over two million dollars.

Junior class at Arlington High to select rings

Just prior to the Christmas vacation, a committee representing the junior class, met with representatives of several ring manufacturing concerns. The committee has selected the company which it felt would best serve the class in the matter of rings.

Officials of the school wish to make it entirely clear that no student is required or expected to purchase a ring unless he desires one. The purchase of a ring is entirely optional with the individual members of the class.

There will be a display of rings from which members of the class will make their selection in Sweasey's Jewelry Store window beginning Saturday through Tuesday, January 14. On Wednesday, January 15, a company representative will be at the high school to take the order of those who desire rings. A $3.00 deposit will be required of everyone placing an order on Wednesday, January 15.

Adult leadership needed to save girl scouting here

The Arlington Heights Girl Scout board opens 1947 with a serious problem. In the four years that Girl Scouting has been in existence in the community the heavy responsibilities have been carried by a few. The organization has expanded to the point where the few can no longer carry the work.

To operate the Girl Scout program the board estimates that there should be at all times trained leaders and assistants for each of the thirteen troops and 32 committee members for committee job. In addition, the summer day camp program requires a large personnel, including 36 unit leaders. The jobs have been broken down to a size that there is a place for anyone willing to help fill the vacancies.

Recent soliciting of workers has failed to bring the help needed. Every responsible citizen recognizes the need for an effective youth program. Nationally the Girl Scout program meets this need. In the United States, Girl Scouting is carried on 99% by volunteers, 1% by professionals. The 216 Girl Scouts and Brownies in Arlington Heights want good Girl Scouting. One hundred and fifty-four want a summer camp program. Is the community going to let them down?

There must also be men and women in the community other than the parents who would also enjoy Girl Scouting! Volunteer slips to mothers were enclosed in letters in December with an urgent request for their prompt return. The response has been unbelievably small.

An ex-professional Girl Scout is the council training chairman. An excellent training course is given to train all adult workers for their jobs.

The Girl Scouts must have community cooperation in volunteer workers as well as financial aid for an effective Girl Scout program in Arlington Heights.

Parents and members of this community should be vitally interested in carrying on this work.

Please return the volunteer slips immediately or call Mrs. Herman J. Carr, organization chairman, or Mrs. Alva H. Meyer, president.

Judge Behrens back from California trip

Judge Carl M. Behrens, with Mrs. Behrens, Catherine and Jan arrived back home from their trip to California Tuesday evening. Their car is still on the way, being driven back by Fred Hintz, who made the trip by rail to California. The two had arranged to switch transportation on the trip home.

The judge says that he was surprised at the high regard the Herald has among those who have left the home town and he knows that its California readers will be watching for this issue to learn what the judge has to say about the hospitality he and his family found in the west.

Interviewing Carl on that subject, the editor learned that Behrens thinks California is a fine state in which to retire — none better, but he is not yet ready to move there. The Flentzes, Wilkes, Gaares, Helms and the Boss family nearly sold California to the visitors from Illinois with good food, fine scenery and sunshine (except when it rained). When Carl makes his first million in the real estate business he may join his friends in the west, and follow the example of J. D. Flentze, raising flowers and living in his shirt sleeves.

He says, "tell those who played host to me, that it was a great trip and if they can find some extra housing out there I will send prospects of other Arlington friends who can not find homes in Arlington."

While a restaurant in Texas, the Behrens met the Gordons, former Chevrolet dealer in Arlington and in a store in Tucson.

Catherine met Mrs. Forrest Nickols, former Arlington resident. The Nickols had read in the Herald of the Behrens trip west and claimed they were not surprised to see them.

The Behrens found that Mike Oeflein is having the time of his life and is being royally entertained by his son. He expects to be back home in March.

Army recruiting team here Thursday

S-Sgt. Edward V. Moffitt, recruiting team captain of the Evanston Recruiting Station, announces that the U. S. Army recruiting team will be at the Arlington Heights post office each Thursday from 8 a. m. to 12 o'clock. Evanston Army Recruiting station is located at 1020-22 Church st., Evanston, phone Greenleaf 5903.

Snow removal costs Arlington $1,000

The heavy snow fall a week ago will cost the village of Arlington Heights a thousand dollars. An extra $200 for the plowing of the snow resulted because of a break down in the snow plow. The removal of snow banks along the curbs in the business district cost an additional $500 and is part of the service that is given business men in consideration of the business license fees that they pay.

Clerk Davis says that the collection of such fees for the coming year has been excellent. Nearly three-quarters of the business houses have voluntarily made payment.

St. John's youth to see Sonja Henie

The Youth Fellowship group of the Arlington Heights St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church will attend the Sonja Henie Ice Follies this Saturday evening. The group will meet at the Arlington Heights Chicago and Northwestern station in time to leave on the 5:04 p. m. train.

Before attending the show the entire group will have dinner together in the city.

Celebrate 25th wedding anniversary of Paul and Maud

Twenty-five years ago Maud, press feeder in a printing plant in Sioux City, Iowa, made the acquaintance of Paul, a linotype operator. They were married and 22 years ago came to Arlington Heights. Maud as a housewife and Paul as an employee of Paddock Publications.

New Year's Eve the entire staff of Paddock Publications and their wives and sweethearts invaded the Arnenman domicile on South State road, bearing greetings and a gift in silver in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arnenman. Also present were other friends of this couple.

It was a coincidence, but there are exactly 25 employees of the publishing firm and they got a lot of pleasure out of the social evening together, enjoying the hospitality of Maud and Paul.

Stream pollution by NW area told in survey

Federal reports ask action against Palatine, Wheeling, Mt. Prospect

Full text of a federal health survey report disclosing a menace to the health and well being of every community of Cook county as a result of sewage pollution, was filed this week with the Cook county board for action.

Discussing in great detail the manner whereby this polluted matter is being fed directly into open streams and exposed fields, the report named many of the industrial plants and municipalities which are contributing to the health hazard. Among them are the villages of Wheeling, Mt. Prospect and Palatine.

Mt. Prospect has filed application with the Federal government for an allocation of $10,000 for engineer's fees and preparatory plans for storm water sewers that will serve the entire village. Such installation will lighten the present load of the main sewer. The improvement is estimated to cost $300,000.

The report directly criticized the evasion of responsibility by county, city, and village authorities with respect to sewage disposal, and charged that many of the industrial plants and villages are threatening health standards by failing to correct the unsanitary conditions.

The survey report strongly criticized the polluted condition of the Des Plaines river which "flows through approximately 6,000 acres of Cook county forest preserves that are used for recreational purposes."

"Recreational use of this stream has been greatly curtailed due to its polluted condition," declared the report. It listed the "three major sources of pollution to the stream" as follows:

"Mount Prospect, with a population of 1726 (1940 census) discharging septic tank effluent to Weller's drainage ditch which flows into the Des Plaines river north of the Northwest highway.

"Wheeling, with a population of 550 (1940 census) discharging raw sewage and septic tank effluent to the stream just south of the Lake-Cook county boundary.

"Industries having industrial wastes should be permitted to locate in this drainage area (near the Des Plaines river) only if steps are taken properly to dispose of their wastes in a manner approved by the Sanitary District or by the Illinois Sanitary Water Board," declared the report.

With respect to the Mt. Prospect situation, the report stated: "Mt. Prospect is undergoing a

Go to Washington next week to save Arlington airport

Carl M. Behrens and Walter Krause, with the possibility of one or two other members of the airport committee, will go to Washington next week in a final effort to save the airport for Arlington Heights.

Before giving a final decision on the transfer of the navy training field to the village the division of docks and wharves has asked the committee to appear in Washington by the 15th.

Private interests are seeking control of the field for mercenary purposes and are offering a rent of $1,000 a month. The committee will make no rental offer.

Arlington high school to be honored

The Arlington Heights township high school has received an invitation from the Chicago Tribune to participate in their popular radio program known as "Citizens of Tomorrow." The program is presented over radio station WGN every Sunday from 1:00 to 1:30 o'clock. The general plan is to honor one high school on each broadcast. The "Citizens of Tomorrow" program is organized with the thought in mind of presenting a cross section of school life in present day high schools.

Philip Maxwell who is associated with the Tribune organization is director of this popular program and is known as "Principal of the Air." The Arlington high program will not be presented until Sunday, May 25, however plans are already under way to get the program organized.

Stream pollution by NW area told in survey

Federal reports ask action against Palatine, Wheeling, Mt. Prospect

Full text of a federal health survey report disclosing a menace to the health and well being of every community of Cook county as a result of sewage pollution, was filed this week with the Cook county board for action.

The greatest complaint, said the report, is that the river contains a "rather considerable accumulation of rubbish and junk." Swimming and wading in the river is prohibited by the Forest Preserve District.

Engineers are at work on plans for the construction of a modern sewage treatment plant at Palatine. The plans are nearly ready for the approval of the state engineers. Installation will depend upon materials available.

Palatine also came in for disussion by the federal investigators. They declared: "The main source of pollution to Salt Creek in the northern part of the county is the village of Palatine with a 1940 census of 2,250. Although this village has a small treatment plant, the plant is obsolete and has had no maintenance for years with the result that the effluent is slightly septic raw sewage.

The report suggested that the Sanitary District take action to eliminate the pollution under powers granted by the state legislature in 1945, and an ordinance enacted by the district July 11, 1946.

Under this ordinance the dis- trict is now in position to bring pressure to bear upon municipalities to enforce removal of polluting material from the streams and to take action against industrial establishments and individuals discharging industrial wastes or sewage.

The report suggested that the Sanitary District take action to eliminate the pollution under powers granted by the state legislature in 1945, and an ordinance enacted by the district July 11, 1946.

The St. Mary's training school, said the report, has "submitted plans to connect to the Central street interceptor sewer and construction should be completed and the source of pollution removed" within a short time.

The survey report further recommended to the municipalities:

"It would appear advisable for these communities with combined sewers to adopt the policy of constructing sanitary sewers whenever extensions to their systems to be constructed under the separate sewer system plan."

"The sanitary sewers should discharge "to the Sanitary District interceptors where possible."

"Industries having industrial wastes should be permitted to locate in this drainage area (near the Des Plaines river) only if steps are taken properly to dispose of their wastes in a manner approved by the Sanitary District or by the Illinois Sanitary Water Board," declared the report.

Health Worry Is Usually Needless

by C. W. LUSSMAN of SIEBURG DRUG CO.

There are people who fear express worry about health, lest they be called Hypochondriacs. The definition of this word is: a person morbidly depressed, causelessly worried or anxious about health.

It is really idle to worry about one's health, for worry, in itself, is debilitating. Useless, too, for only a doctor can diagnose, only a doctor can reassure you as to your real state of health.

Every doctor prefers to receive a patient who has what he may deprecatingly refer to as "aches and pains" to one who has waited much too long. Aches and pains often disappear under mild treatment. Such prevention has saved countless lives.

See your physician regularly. Accept medication only from a skilled druggist.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 5, was:

"GOD"

The Golden Text was:

"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord" (Deut. 6: 4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me. Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying My Counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure . . . Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite" (Isa. 46: 9, 10; Ps. 147: 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"God, The great I AM: the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence . . . In the Saxon and twenty other tongues good is the term for God. The Scriptures declare all that He made to be good, like Himself—good in principle and in idea. Therefore the spiritual universe is good, and reflects God as He is" (pp. 587, 286).

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

BILL NORTH

Well, the Youth Center is started on its second season and we look for it to be Ramble Inn's greatest. After the Christmas holidays when there was not much doing around the Y. C. due to the dances and parties, it is resuming its regular schedule.

Here's a little thought for New Year's. Last week this writer visited a suburban Y. C. It seemed to be dying. It could not have been through the lack of community support that it was fading, as it had just recently been decorated. No, it was dying because the kids had ceased to be proud of it and enjoy it. It once had a game room with all sorts of ping pong tables, pool tables and other games. The game room is no longer open because no matter how many ping pong balls and paddles were bought, no matter how many times the games were repaired, they were as often destroyed. They once had a coke bar where were sold many different kinds of food, drink and candy. The coke bar is dark now. There are only stiff wooden chairs now because the upholstered furniture was torn apart and the pillows used to throw around. This Youth Center is seldom crowded anymore. It is but a shell.

It takes both students and adults to make a Y. C. One without the other will not mean success. The adults have given us a home away from home. Let's treat it as such.

Maine students still seem to be the most frequent visitors at Ramble Inn. Bill Matousek and Richard Stade from Maine came down just the other week, also at our Y. C. were Jean Caldwell from Chicago and Arlene Swertfeger from Harrison, New York.

Our Y. C. cannot be anything but good. As long as we are sure to see we treat it as we should. To some Y. C.'s '47 means the beginning of the end. Let's make sure this does not apply.

To Good old Ramble Inn.

Keeneyville Carolers net $40 for T.B. fund

The Keeneyville Choral Club spent Christmas Eve caroling from door to door in their community and helped to spread Christmas cheer, there being no snow.

Donations and offerings totaled forty dollars which was sent to the DuPage County Tuberculosis Foundation.

The carolers were kept so busy, they didn't even take time to warm up or to accept the many invitations to hot coffee.

It was planned to sing from 7:30 to 10:30. At 11:30 they pulled into the home of their director, H. P. Sittner, where a midnight lunch was served by Mrs. Sittner.

The Choral Club has pledged its support toward this foundation and plans to do other work in its favor during the coming year.

Building Razed In New Year's Eve Disaster

Whitehall Inn, corner of York and Grand aves., south of Bensenville was completely destroyed by fire on New Year's Eve, with a financial loss to the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Marzalik, in excess of $60,000.

The fire is believed to have been caused by defective electric wiring in the walls, as the entire building burst into flames at about 5:00 p.m. while the kitchen staff was busy preparing for the sellout crowd expected in a few hours.

Nothing was saved from the building, which had been heavily stocked with food and liquor for the more than two hundred reservations for the New Year's Eve celebration. Luckily the fire did not occur several hours later when it undoubtedly would have caused a serious loss of life.

The Marzaliks acquired the property about two years ago and had made extensive alterations in the building which has been a landmark at the intersection for the past twenty-two years.

The Bensenville fire department was the first on the scene, with both rural and village trucks. They were joined by the Addison tank truck, which helped supply water for the pumpers and later by a truck from Elmhurst. By this concerted effort, flames were kept from surrounding buildings, but were so far advanced nothing could save the main structure, of old English design, with half timbers and shingled walls.

Jottings from the county building

President Erickson has appointed an executive traffic safety committee to carry through a specific program for Cook county in line with the recent national and state highway safety conferences. Members of the committee are Judge Porter, Evanston; Sheriff Michael Walsh; Noble J. Puffer, superintendent of schools; Geo. A. Quilan, highway department; L. A. Drummond, Chicago Association of Commerce and Chas. W. Apple, division of highways. Snow shovels keep moving

The county's antiquated snow removal equipment worried through the first big snowstorm of the winter without too much trouble, Maj. George A. Quilan, county highway superintendent, said Friday night as the snow stopped flying.

"We had some broken axles and radiators from over-exertion, but kept 80 per cent of our 25 pre-war plows on the roads constantly," he said. "Even our big snow fighters had trouble getting through the eight-foot drifts up northwest."

Deliver two trucks

Delivery of the first two of ten new trucks finally obtained through Albert Busse of Mt. Prospect, was scheduled for this week, following cutting down of bodies to fit specifications. They were the first since the war began.

Found guilty of eating on the house at Walgreen's

William A. Donlon, an advertising salesman living at 1147 White st., Des Plaines, was fined $10 by Judge A. L. Sengstock after admitting walking out of Walgreen's without paying for a meal.

It was alleged that not only did Donlon eat on the house many times, but on one occasion at least, he took his entire family of four into the store for a meal and then walked out without paying. Donlon was said to use a regular procedure. He would walk to the back of the store, hang up his hat and coat, and then make himself comfortable in a seat. After eating, he would put on his clothes, then walk to various counters, particularly the cigar counter, make a small purchase, and then after meandering around, ease himself out of the door.

His actions were becoming the joke of the store, so last Saturday, a trap was laid and Donlon walked right into it.

Voters approve school tax levy at Bensenville

The propositions to permit the local school boards to increase the educational tax rates were strongly approved at last Saturday's special elections, held in both the Bensenville Elementary school district no. 2 and in the Bensenville Community high school district no. 100.

In school district No. 2 there were 60 votes cast, with 53 voting "Yes" and 7 voting "No". In the high school district, which includes precincts in and around the Wood Dale, Churchville and Lincoln school areas, as well as the Bensenville precinct, there were a total of 109 votes cast, with 88 voting "Yes", 20 voting "No" and one ballot spoiled.

The new rates thus approved by the passing of this referendum are: For Bensenville Elementary school district no. 2, educational rate 1.125%; and for Bensenville Community high school district 100, educational rate 1.00%. Both of these rates are based on the new 100% valuation basis. They will not take effect, however, until 1948 taxes are collected, since the levy for taxes to be collected in 1947 was completed last July.

In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away two years ago, January 8, 1945.

The silent night is lonely
There is no golden dawn
Because we remember mother
That you are really gone.

We try to remember in our hearts

The happiness we once knew
And that this world was once a place

In which you lived once too.
We often think of those happy days

When we were altogether,
Your loving smile and cheerful way

Will live with us forever.
Your loving Brumm Children.

Herman Winkelmans hold 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winkelman, 710 N. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary December 31, with a delicious dinner served by the Ladies Aid of St. Peter's Lutheran church in the Lutheran school hall. They had as guests their five sons, one daughter, nine grandchildren, and other immediate relatives and friends.

The tables were elaborately decorated in white and gold mums, white candles, and a huge wedding cake was placed in front of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Winkelman is 72 years old and was born in Hanover, Germany. She came to this country when only 13 months old. Her husband, also 72, was born in Addison. Mr. Winkelman was a Cook county police officer for 38 years before his retirement in 1942.

The highlight of the evening came as a surprise to the guests of honor when Teacher Kolb, as toast master, arranged a very touching program, that all the grandchildren of the couple took part in. Mrs. Laseke rendered two lovely vocal selections.

William Busse, County Commissioner, who at one time was Mr. Winkelman's boss, was a distinguished guest of the evening.

After a word of prayer by Rev. L. V. Stephan, the entire gathering sang songs, after which they all went to the Winkelman home to enjoy an open house.

The couple's son and daughter are Elmer, who is a special contact agent for the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Clarence, who operates the Sinclair Service Station at Mt. Prospect, Helen, (Mrs. Herman Bauman) who is a bookkeeper at the Arlington Heights bank, Elroy, who is owner of Winkelman's Tire and Battery Shop, Harvey, who is owner of a mink ranch at Delavan, Wis., and Preston, who is assistant manager at the Evanston Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Engagement announced

of Eugene Quadri

The engagement of Miss Joyce Wille to Mr. Donald M. Kempf, son of the Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kempf of Arlington Heights, was announced Christmas Eve by Miss Wille's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Wille of Mt. Prospect. The two families celebrated the occasion at the Wille home that evening.

An attractive Christmas display designed and made by Mr. Kempf held the treasure.

Miss Wille is a graduate of the Arlington Heights Township high school and is now employed at the Arlington Heights National Bank.

Mr. Kempf has served four years with the U. S. Navy as a pharmacists mate. Three years were spent in the South Pacific with landing forces and aboard the battleship USS Indiana. He is now studying television engineering in Chicago.

Theresa Ostman engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ostman of Techny Road, Northbrook, announce the engagement of their daughter, Theresa Ann, to Mr. Joseph O'Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Sullivan of Chicago.

The wedding will be held January 25 at St. Norbert's church, Northbrook. The groom's sister, Jenne Ann O'Sullivan will serve as maid of honor, and the bride's sister, Agnes May, and Betty Bach of Chicago, will be bridesmaids.

Palatine high school defeats town team

Palatine basketball fans had an example of athletic training Saturday night that they will not forget for a long time. Incidentally, it was also a lesson for those who think cigarettes are not injurious.

The Eureka Club basketball team, whose home is the gymnasium in the Stroker hall, had a game scheduled with the Monarchs of Arlington Heights. The latter team could not come and the Eurekas consented to take on the little high school felows, with the result that the high school boys defeated them by a score of 60 to 10.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

Have you already discovered the new edition of "Walden, Or Life in the Woods", by Henry David Thoreau? If you haven't, you have a treat in store.

Dodd, Mead has come forth with a beautiful edition ($5.00) with an introduction and comments and 142 photographs by the Illinois naturalist, E. W. Teale.

As Mr. Teale points out, Tolstoy testified to the great influence "Walden" had on his life, and perhaps no other American book written before the Civil War has had such continued publication.

Because Thoreau dealt with universal and timeless things, his pages are as fresh, as applicable, as readily understood today as when he wrote them. There will never be a time as long as human beings exist when the problems he faced will not be faced by those who turn his pages. There is no dating or loss of point with the passing of years, no outmoding of the ideas because the problems have been solved and are no longer in the foreground of public thought. Such writers as Hendrik Ibsen have suffered by such evolution. But Thoreau is still dealing with themes and problems that run through the lives of all times." So observes Mr. Teale.

The annual meeting of the Union Mutual Insurance Co. Monday was well attended. The old board of directors was re-elected. ELECTIONS

Palatine isn't the only town which defeated a village tax rate increase. The village of Maywood recently turned down such an increase and the result was startling. The officials couldn't see where the money was coming from to run things at increased costs without that tax raise so they at once started to cut expenses.

Lights were cut off, garbage collection was reduced, and a threatened reduction in police and fire departments was contemplated. Officials took the stand that they couldn't spend what they couldn't get, and then like other towns in the same boat they began a hunt for additional revenue other than tax-

Molasses and sorghum, like honey, burn easily, so any foods containing them should be cooked at a lower temperature than when sugar is used.

Annual Lake-Cook farm meeting next Thursday

The Board of Directors of the Lake-Cook Farm Supply Company announces the Nineteenth Annual Meeting of the stockholders to be held at the Rand Park fieldhouse at Des Plaines, Thursday, January 16th. Due to the many business details to be taken care of on that day, all of those interested are urged to be there promptly at 10:30 a. m. when the meeting is called to order by Eb Harris of Grayslake, president of the company.

This meeting will be of unusual interest to all the farmers of Lake and Cook counties, as the largest dividends in the nineteen years' history of the company, $100,000 will be paid out that day. Besides this big dividend payment, interesting reports covering the million and a quarter dollar volume which was done, as well as plans for the large expansion which is taking place, will be discussed.

The entertainment committee has been unusually fortunate in being able to obtain Fred E. Herndon, president of the Illinois Farm Supply Company as the main speaker of the day. Also, other attractive entertainment will be on the program.

The famous "Lake-Cook Lunch," which has become a standard of "Free Lunches" in the territory, will again be served by the Lake-Cook Employees. Everyone is urged to attend, and everything is free.

LAW on the FARM

Land Registration. In most states the title to land is not made a matter of public record. Instruments affecting title are recorded for the most part in the county court house, but abstract companies and title examiners must be employed to see if a merchantable title exists.

In 1897 the Illinois legislature approved an act concerning land titles. This act made available to counties able to procure the necessary approval, through petition and referendum, a method of land title registration known as the Torrens System, named after the Australian who devised it. The general purpose of the system has been described by the Illinois courts as follows:

"The basic principles of the Torrens system is the registration of the title to land, instead of registering as under the old system, the evidence of such title.

The object is to create an independent system of registration of land titles, and cause all instruments intended for the purpose of passing or affecting any title to real estate to be filed and registered in that department and no other."

In Illinois the question of adoption of the system must be presented to the voters of the county. In Cook county 2,500 legal voters may petition to have it submitted to vote; in other counties of the state, one-half of the legal voters must petition. Under the present provision with respect to petition for submission to vote, it is very difficult for a county to even have the issue submitted. Cook county adopted the plan many years ago, and a substantial portion of the land in that county is now registered.

The registration of title is accomplished by a proceeding in court. The owner first submits a written and sworn application to the judge of the circuit court, containing certain facts required by the act. The application may then be referred to an examiner of title for his check and approval. A summons is issued to all parties who may have an interest, making them defendants in the proceedings. The court then hears the case and enters a decree of title in those to whom it has been shown that title belongs. The decree becomes binding, except that an appeal may be made as in other cases. A certificate of title is issued, and the registrar is required to keep a "Register of Title" for the county, containing all certificates.

An indemnity fund is provided to settle claims not disposed of in the proceedings, and provisions are made for transfers and charges, tax sales, cancellation of certificates and other special conditions affecting registered land.

Many students of the problem feel that the Torrens system is an economical and effective way of handling land titles and that it should supplant the present system. Others feel that there would be no advantage in adopting it. The use of photostat machines and of photomicrography, a system allowing long documents to be photographed, reduced in scale and stored as negatives in a small place, will simplify and expedite the present system of keeping records. Proponents of land registration maintain, however, that the Torrens system is an economical and effective way of handling land titles and that it should supplant the present system. Others feel that there would be no advantage in adopting it. The use of photostat machines and of photomicrography, a system allowing long documents to be photographed, reduced in scale and stored as negatives in a small place, will simplify and expedite the present system of keeping records. Proponents of land registration maintain, however, that the public is entitled to have its appropriate government agencies issue certificates of title to land.

The act concerning land registration may be found in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 105, Sections 45-152.

Farm real estate up 91% since
'35-'39 period

As the reports of impending new cuts in pork prices reached the trade, packers cut their buying prices for hogs substantially. The one-day decline on Tuesday, December 17, was as much as $1.50, and the final sales were the lowest since the O.P.A. ceilings went off, being about $5.00 to $5.50 under the price two months ago. The bids for choice 200-230 pound hogs declined to $22. The cattle market has been steadier, with the top around $30 but with only a few of the cattle bringing more than $26. Quality is plain, receipts rather large and demand barely steady.

The final government report confirms previous reports to the effect that we had the largest and best grain crops on record in this country. Wheat and corn crops were outstanding, both in quantity and in quality. We also had record crops of rice, potatoes, tobacco, soybeans, several fruits and truck crops.

Stocker and feeder cattle continued to move into the corn belt states in record numbers during November, and the number of cattle available for feeding in these states at the end of 1946 will probably be a record. The price spread between fat cattle and feeder cattle was much the largest on record in November.

A further reduction in the volume of sheep and lamb feeding this season compared to a year earlier was indicated in the December 13 government report.

Farm real estate values continued to rise during the four months ending November 1. For the country as a whole, the rise was 3 percent, bringing the level up to 152 percent of the 1912-14 base. The rise was 14 percent from November 1945 and 83 percent from the 1935-39 average. Illinois values rose 91 percent from the 1935-39 average.

The gap between supply and demand for all sorts of goods is being rapidly closed with the increase in output. This situation, if it continues and if it is accompanied by further price rises, may lead to trouble such as we had at the end of other boom periods. That is the basic reason that many economists look for a business recession in 1947. Prices get too high, considering consumers' ability and willingness to buy, for the large volume of output that must be placed on the market.

It is estimated that the 1946-47 world production of beet and cane sugar will be 12 percent more than the 1945-46 production, but also 14 percent less than the 1935-39 average. Without controls, about one-sixth more sugar would be taken at present prices than is likely to be available.

The total U. S. orange production for the 1946-47 season is a new high record, 20 percent larger than produced in 1945-46 and 53 percent larger than the 1935-44 average.

Dundee runs over Crystal Lake

Coach Eugene DeLacey's Cardinals from Dundee proved their right to higher rating among Illinois teams Saturday night when they mercilessly mauled Crystal Lake, Northeast conference favorite, 71-46, in a game played without the services of 1946 all-state Grover who is out with a broken toe.

The Lakers kept even with Dundee in just one quarter, the second, when the visitors outscored the NE boys, 12-11. Other periods saw the Cardinals almost doubling the score each segment.

Schuldt led the basket shooting with 30 points, including 12 baskets and 8 charities. Ebel with eight baskets ranked second. Nelson and Holt took scoring honors for the Lakers with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

Ela risks unbeaten record this week

In the Northwest Conference this week Ela risks their undefeated record against two of their leading competitors, Antioch and Palatine. The afternoon that this page goes to press, Wednesday, Ela will be playing at Antioch in a game postponed from early December. Friday night the Bears take on Palatine at Lake Zurich. Neither opponent has the height of the Ela squad, but if right, could beat them and their supporters are pulling for them to be right. Orville Grever and his steady team mates are favored in both

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. MCELROY

It seems to us that there can be little question of number one rating in the state prep basketball lists this week after Waukegan's 50-33 victory over Champaign. The latter had won the state title last year with a team made up largely of juniors and has held first place in the rating so far this year. Champaign was nosed out at Kewanee last week but Waukegan's victory was so clear cut that there could be no question of which was the superior team. Coupled with this Waukegan had won their new New Year's day tournament by defeating Dundee by 1 point in the finals after trimming Freeport. The weekend before Waukegan had beaten both Madison on successive nights. The Bulldogs have 12 straight wins and 25 conquests in a row on their own court.

Dundee team to watch
 A team which should also gain more prestige this past week is Dundee. The Cardinals who have been placed about 8th in the state ratings may not advance, but rates higher with us. Their star forward, Grover, an all-state man last year, has been out with a broken toe, yet Dundee lost by just one point to Waukegan in the holiday tournament after whipping Proviso.

They combined with Waukegan on the recent two night stand at the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse against East and West Madison and split even, losing one game by three points. Last Saturday night in a return game with Crystal Lake the Dundee five, still minus their star scorer, ran up a 71-46 score on a team that earlier held them to a two point margin.

It is common talk around Dundee that their outfit is stronger than the one which took third in the state last year.

20 game limit set on basketball

Notice comes out from the state office that the proposition of a 20 game limit in basketball for the state has been passed by the principals of the state by a vote of 444 to 139. This is no real limitation upon most schools of this area.

We at Palatine have a 20 game schedule this year, exclusive of tournaments, and it is one of the heaviest the school has ever carded.

The new rule permits two tournaments from the state series, or a choice of three more games instead. Sounds to us like a very liberal but needed rule.

Some downstate teams have played over 40 games in a season. When it goes that far there can be little question that both school work and health of the boys suffers and athletics is overemphasized.

Most of the principals of this area will agree with me that a policy of no evening, athletic contests on nights before school days is a good school policy. This limits basketball to Friday and Saturday nights and they do take both those games, it will turn into a race to see who can get second place. It is an evenly matched league this year and of course anything can happen.

Antioch, Palatine, Barrington, and Bensenville appear about on par, with Waukegan and Northbrook coming up with occasional games of championship caliber.

Crystal Lake best
 N. E. team at this stage of season

The Northeast Conference race is the most closely contested in years, but it appears that Crystal Lake has the best team at this time. They may not be by February with Lake Forest, Arlington and Libertyville very strong contenders and Leyden, Woodstock and Niles capable of turning in games good enough to upset the leaders. From our point of view it is going to be the most interesting of any Northeast season to date.

Bisons lose to alums; 50 Joes are trounced

Bensenville's three basketball squads won, lost and won Friday in a double header contest at the local high school gym, with almost 300 persons in attendance. The crowd was larger than expected, due to the snow and cold.

In the opening tilt the towering alumni squad, the first five averaging 6' 3" in height, outplayed the high school five, 47 to 38. It was a case of too much height and experience against the Bisons, though the high school squad kept reasonably close throughout the contest.

The alums took a five to two first period lead, warmed up to a 16 to 12 half-time score, and netted 33 to 26 in the third quarter. Getting the rebounds was a decisive factor of the game.

Gutnik led the scoring for the winner with 15 points, while Miller notched ten. For the high school five, Robertson sank five and two for 12 tallies, Thollander getting ten for second.

'50 Joes' lose

The '50 Joes' squad took it on the chin in the nightcap for the evening, Lake Zurich winning 41 to 27. The Bensenville boys went ahead 10-6 in the first period, but the visitors pulled ahead before the half ended, 21-17.

Lake Zurich basketball is always a family affair, with J. and B. Webber each notching eight points. D. Webber also sank one basket. Another brother act, the Knigges, sank six and five points for the winners.

The 'Joes', with the exception of Stander, who sank six buckets, were cold as the weather in their play, only four other baskets being made from the field.

Free throws saved the day for the high school squad, the Bisons sinking 14 of 25, while the alums made just five of 19.

YOUR DENTAL I. Q.

Q: Does history state who was the first American dentist? — M. C. A.

A: In colonial days, dentistry was practiced by barber-surgeons. The first colonial barber-surgeon of whom we have any record was William Dinely, who practiced in Roxbury, Mass., in 1639. James Mills practiced in New York City in about 1735. Isaac Greenwood is reputed to have practiced in Boston in about 1750. His son, John Greenwood (1760-1819) was one of George Washington's dentists.

Q: For years, I have used a mixture of table salt and baking soda for brushing my teeth and have never noticed any ill-effects. Now I am told that I should not use it, but should use one of the specially prepared tooth pastes. Is this true? — J. B. S.

A: Fine table salt and baking soda are acceptable for brushing the teeth. The mixture suggested is one part of pulverized salt and three parts of baking soda.

Gains second discharge

Kenneth "K.P." Page of Arlington Heights has received his discharge from the U. S. army. He recently returned from Germany to surprise his family, arriving Sunday, December 22.

This is Kenney's second discharge. Unknown to his family and most of his friends, he was discharged at Lowry Field, Dec. 19, 1945. However, he had a yen to see more of the world, so signed up for a year of overseas duty.

During that year he was stationed both in France and Germany, but his duties in the Air Forces took him to other places, such as Italy, Austria and Africa. Also, a little trip into Spain.

Now his thirst for travel has been satisfied and he plans to settle down to a job, with an idea that he may continue his education at some college or university next fall. At present he is taking it easy at his parents' home on Rand rd. Ken is the last of four brothers to return from service.

Questions on GI Bill

Question: Can I attend high school under the G.I. Bill and draw my subsistence allowance?

Answer: If otherwise eligible, you may draw subsistence allowance while attending high school. We suggest that you discuss your qualifications and your service record with your high school authorities, as you may be able to convert your military training into academic credits that would shorten the time necessary to receive your high school diploma. Some veterans have been able to convert military training into enough credits to give them a diploma without returning to school.

Question: What progress must I make during the first year that I am in school in order to continue in school for the balance of the period of my eligibility?

Answer: A veteran's continuation in his course at an institution under the G.I. Bill is contingent upon his maintaining satisfactory conduct and attendance, and progress in his work according to the regularly prescribed standards and practices of the institution.

Question: Is it necessary to hire a lawyer to secure benefits from the Veterans' Administration?

Answer: No. However, it is suggested that power of attorney be given to one of the major veteran organizations which will represent the veteran without charge.

Question: I own my own home. Can I make a G.I. loan for repairs?

Answer: Yes, you can. Any repairs to a building must be of such a nature, however, that they will restore the building or fixtures, to a condition suitable for use as a home, or place of business, depending upon the nature of the building.
